Photoshop CS5 includes a large feature set for advanced graphics editing. The Creative Suite itself is more expensive than Corel Photo-Paint, but the programs are sold as a set and are otherwise similar. History provides an excellent way to learn about current events, understand the past, and inspire the present. Once upon a time, not so long ago, a young man on a horse was being chased by a dragon. Years later, a young woman told the dragon, "I have a proposal for you. Let's unite our power and live happily ever after." Then the young man rode up on the dragon's back and said, "If you don't stop digging, I'll roll up your gold." "Never," the dragon replied. The young man rode away on his horse, and the dragon went back to digging. The next day, the young woman told the dragon, "I have a proposal for you. Let's unite our power and live happily ever after." The dragon said, "If you don't stop digging, I'll roll up your gold." "Never," the dragon replied. In the glove compartment of his brand new car, the family found a case full of marijuana seedlings. They were dealing drugs in his car with his son as their drug smuggler. Now, they were told they could not get a license and could not complete their student loan payment. Their bank and the credit card company withdrew their money. The family was not able to pay the rent or the car note. This was the start of the "devil's hour" of this mother and two sons in the Northwest. Despite being jailed, the family was forced to deal drugs while in jail. They were not allowed to pay their bills while they were in jail, or use their debit cards. Once released, they were taken to court again and a more severe sentence was handed down. The mother and son were now forced to pay thousands of dollars to the jail each month due to the fact that they were behind on their payments on their properties. They were not allowed to pay their mother, who was an inmate, anything. She had to use her remaining money to pay for their own basic needs. When the mom tried to use her credit card again, she was told it was canceled. She was told she had to wait another few months for her bank to approve her new card. Also on the local news were reports of a family who'd paid a porn star to do a video with their son that is being sold on the Internet. At first, the woman even threatened to report this to the police. They were not allowed to have their phone in jail. The boys were never forced to leave the house. There are many legal issues involved with this situation. The mother's phone was thrown out by the jail officials. It is unclear as to whether the boys were allowed to have phones to contact their family and friends. The family was living in their mother's van because the family home had been sold. The van was towed away because the family had not paid the towing bill. Once the van was repossessed, the family found out they were going to have to move and go back to their home state. All throughout this time, the family was not allowed to speak to family or friends. Even their trips to court were done behind closed doors. The public never found out about this family's plight because it was so well kept under wraps. This family was being punished not only for being a drug smuggler, but for being in debt. Their situation has caused many people to question the
