May 16, 2011 - including Crayon Physics, Cat Physics, Bridge Basher and Stair... showing crazy ways to get the ball from one level size to another. With these free games you can play ball using only your brain! Choose one of six games and find the best solution! Each game has multiple difficulty levels, and then as you progress, you can tweak your physics. You can also add support for tablet or phone, and share your game with your Facebook friends. There are many solutions in each level. But not all of them will work well. Sometimes you have to think a little.
