Are you seeking a quiet place to eat, read, work, or celebrate without disturbing others? You're looking in the right place! "Green Acres" is a townhouse community offering residents a quiet, cul-de-sac location, within a two-minute walk to downtown West Los Angeles. Just a little over a year ago, the townhouse community was the site of an infamous tear-gas incident, coming in the wake of a mayoral candidate's controversial statement. "Beverly Hillbillies meets The Odd Couple" -- these days, it's not so much an oddity that makes Beverly Hills home to: the NBA, The Rodeo Drive, Rolls Royce showrooms, and the Sunset Strip. But it might soon be a health spa, with a sweet, spa-like atmosphere that's just as enticing for young couples to older ones who want the companionship of their own neighbors. Westside high-rise living really was once only for the wealthy, but as the recession hit, that changed. "For so many people, condos were their retirement dream," says Steve Scott, president of Westside Realty in Beverly Hills. In the past few years, he says, his company has seen a "direct correlation" between the city's first hint of boom-time, the opening of a new Bank of America branch in June 2009, and the company's steady sales. There are now a total of about 50 units on offer in Beverly Hills, with prices starting at $1 million. There are a couple of reasons for that. One is that real estate in Beverly Hills never went up, but the prices of others did. Another, is that despite the area's skyrocketing price, it's relative to the rest of the county. "What it really comes down to is Beverly Hills just has a lot of really good schools, so people put their money there," says Scott. Median home price: $2.4 million Median rent: $3,300 Median household income: $56,001. Beverly Hills 2. Bel Air 3. Westwood / Century City 4

I'm trying to copy a column of my worksheet into another sheet but for some reason its just copying the first line of the worksheet. I've set the column I want to copy as top-to-bottom and the same as the top row of my new sheet, and still no. =indirect(""&A1&"!J2") A: This will pull the values from the first row of worksheet to the second row of a new worksheet =indirect(""&Worksheet!A1&"!J2") And make sure that this is in the same tab, rather than referencing both tabs Structure of the alpha subunit of Escherichia coli CII, a component of the proton-translocating ATPase of the cytoplasmic membrane. CII is one of three cytoplasmic membranes ATPases with a nucleotide-binding domain, F1. CII consists of two identical subunits, CII(alpha) and CII(beta). The subunit alpha, encoded by the gene coaA, has never been purified to homogeneity and its structure is unknown. In this study, we have purified and determined the structure of the subunit alpha of Escherichia coli CII. The protein, as well as its beta subunit, CII(beta), was isolated from NaCl-solubilized cytoplasmic membranes by affinity chromatography on ATP-agarose. CII(alpha) was released from the alpha beta dimer by digestion with papain at neutral pH. Using limited proteolysis and chemical modification, we have defined alpha as a protein with a high content of aliphatic, hydrophobic, and aromatic amino acid residues. Two-dimensional peptide maps of cyanogen bromide and trypsin cleavage products were similar to each other and to the hydropathy profile. The subunit alpha contained 3 lysyl residues, and a single arginyl residue, which were identified by chemical modification and peptide maps. These four residues appear to be in flexible areas of the structure based on measurements of tryptophan fluorescence. 341 F.Supp.2d 919 (2004) Clarence FRANKLIN, Petitioner, v. Greg L.
